Third Annual From Crib to Classroom Conference “Playing to Learn”

8:30 am - 10:00 am
Welcome
Opening Keynote: Bridget Chandler

Session A: 10:15 am – 11:30 am
(choose one)

- NF14 Reggio Emilia— Susan Frazier, Reggio Specialist and Author
The renowned co-author of “Authentic Childhood: Exploring Reggio Emilia in the Classroom,” will share her years of experience using Reggio Emilia in classrooms in Vancouver, B.C.
- NF15 Every Child Ready to Read – Jill Olson, King County Library System
Parents and caregivers can have fun with children while building essential early literacy skills. Help children grow these skills through playful activities such as singing, chanting, words games and more!
- NF16 Emotional Coaching: What’s That? – Talena Alston, Linda Meyers, Puget Sound Educational Service District
Behavior is the way children communicate! Behaviors are powerful. Learn how you can support emotions and spend less time managing behaviors.
- NF17 Child Maltreatment and Mandated Reporting – Caroline Shelton, Children’s Response Center
In this session, learn to identify symptoms of abuse and neglect, reporting requirements to CPS, and ways to provide a safe, nurturing environment for children who have experienced abuse or trauma in their lives.
- NF18 Engaging Men in Children’s Lives and Play – Tim Ryan, Puget Sound Educational Service District
Participants will learn the value of the way men play with children and the differences those playful relationships make in the lives of children.
- NF19 Learning Through Play: Supporting Children Birth-5 with Special Needs – Gerry Chatterton & Enrica Hampton, Kinderling Center
This session will increase the understanding of what is meant by “school readiness” for the child with special needs. Participants will receive specific ideas on adapting the environment and play materials to support the child’s learning and development.
- NF20 Using Play Therapy in the Classroom – Candace McKenzie, Puget Sound Educational Service District
This workshop will offer ideas on healing play in the classroom for children needing extra social-emotional support. Learn how to enhance children’s self-esteem and help them to learn coping skills through play strategies and activities.
- NF21 Encouraging Play: A Multi-Cultural Perspective—King County Family, Friend, and Neighbor Leadership Group
A multi-cultural exploration of the concept of play: barriers to play, strategies for play that strengthens development, and resources to promote play and develop play groups for diverse groups.

11:45 am - 12:30 pm
Lunch
Vendors, resource fair, and Reggio Network

Session B: 12:45 pm—2:00 pm
(choose one)

- NF22 Educating the Heart and Mind – Amy Walker, Committee for Children
Having good social skills is a predictor of success both in the classroom and on the playground. If your goal is to improve the social skills of the children you teach, you will enjoy this interactive, multi-media workshop.
- NF23 Parenting with Love, Logic and Positive Discipline – Kay Peters, Shoreline School District
This session is appropriate for anyone who interacts with children. Participants will learn how to share control with children using enforceable statements and choices.
- NF24 Homemade Toys & Activities – Starla Bailey, Northwest Hospital
Learn to make great learning toys with materials from your recycling bin. There are so many ways to enhance your child’s playtime with everyday stuff. Come share the fun!
- NF25 Depressed Babies & Children/Dental Health of Mom Affects Baby – Cherie LaMaine, RN, PRNP, Cam Do Wong, Seattle King County Public Health
New research shows that the oral and mental health of mothers, pre and post-partum, impact outcomes for infants. Learn how to recognize the red flags that require intervention for both mother and baby.
- NF26 Reggio Emilia: Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow – Peter Blair, Stroum Jewish Community Center
Peter will share his personal account of training in Italy, exploring the philosophy and curriculum of the Reggio Emilia schools. Learn about Reggio practices such as focusing on the image of the child, environment, project work with young children, and the benefits of observation and documentation.
- NF27 Documenting Learning in a Play-Based Curriculum – Emily Burkland
This workshop will highlight strategies for documenting the learning that occurs in a play-based curriculum with a focus on child development. We will discuss ways to convey learning through daily documentation of classroom centers and project work.
- NF28 Stepping Stones to Preschool: How Early Social Interaction Enhances Early Learning – Program for Early Parent Support (PEPS)
PEPS will present the benefits and importance of early social interaction between parents and young children, and how this interaction enhances early learning. The workshop will also include discussion on serving families of color with an emphasis on the Latino community.

2:15 pm - 2:30 pm
